

The County with the Highest Rate of Flea Markets per Person and the County with the Largest Number of Flea Markets

Garfield County, Washington

County with highest rate of flea markets per person: Garfield County, Washington
 Number of flea markets: 1
 Population (2015 estimate): 2,219
 Rate of flea markets per person: 0.00045065

County with the most flea markets: Harris County, Texas
 Number of flea markets: 16
 Population (2015 estimate): 4,538,028
 Rate of flea markets per person: 0.00000353

Counties with Flea Markets

Why? It all has to do with population!

Garfield County, Washington, with only one flea market, is Washington state's least densely populated county with only 3.2 people per square mile. With so few people living in the county, its one flea market has a wider audience.

The 16 flea markets in Harris County, Texas, take advantage of the county's large population due to its being in the Houston metropolitan area. With such a high population, the rate of flea markets per person is also much smaller.

Harris County, Texas